Introduction

Gaming machines can be found in thousands of locations globally, from casinos to cruise boats, in clubs and local bars, racing venues, amusement parlours, and even in corner stores or cafes.

This 2015 World Count of Gaming Machines provides a snapshot of the global gaming machine industry through an estimate of the number of gaming machines legitimately operating worldwide.

The Gaming Technologies Association (GTA) is the representative body for Australian gaming technology producers. GTA supports the industry through policy leadership and member support to ensure a sustainable industry.

GTA has commissioned the World Count of Gaming Machines since 1999. This document has illustrated the evolving nature of the industry both in Australia and in other countries, and has provided a measure of where Australia is positioned in relation to other regulated countries throughout the world.

Method

Data for this report was sourced from regulatory bodies, government sources, private company research, gaming industry bodies, and directly from locations where machines are installed. The data was verified across several authorities wherever available.

The machines that are represented in this report are those that are legally installed. Where illegal machines exist, or where there is no regulation, the count is only based on the numbers of machines that could be verified.

Every effort has been made to provide reliable data in a timely manner.

Definition of a Gaming Machine

For the purpose of this report we have taken the definition of a gaming machine as defined by the New South Wales Government in the Gaming Machines Act 2001. This defines a gaming machine as a device that is designed:

- (a) for the playing of a game of chance or a game that is partly a game of chance and partly a game requiring skill, and*
 - (b) for paying out money or tokens or for registering a right to an amount of money or money's worth to be paid,*
- and includes any subsidiary equipment.*

The above definition covers many differing machines that fall into various categories or classes around the world. To give a better understanding of the machines that are installed worldwide, where available, we have attempted to provide a breakdown of Slot machines, Video Lottery Terminals, Video Gaming Machines, Pachinko and Pachislot machines, and Electronic Table Games. Our description for each of the classes of machines can be seen below. We do not assume our definitions to be technically accurate under all gaming jurisdictions, but aim to provide an outline of the general classification understood by many of our sources.

Slot Machines

The basic game of a slot machine requires that a minimum of three reels be put in motion with the result being determined by the combination of objects displayed when the reels come to a stop. In general, should the objects match the player wins. The winning amount may vary depending on the ranking of the particular object pictured compared to the other objects on the reel.

Slot Machines are also known as “fruit machines”, “pokies”, or “jackpot machines”.

Modern slot machines use computer generated images, rather than mechanical reels, however the principle of the game is the same.

Video Lottery Terminals and Video Gaming Machines

Video lottery terminals (VLTs) and Video Gaming Machines (VGMs) provide multi-game platforms that often offer slot games as part of their repertoire. Other games may include video poker, video blackjack, video bingo, video lotto etc.

In some jurisdictions VLTs operate on a networked system rather than by individual machine. This can allow a payout to be larger than if the machine were operating on its own.

Amusements with Payouts

In the United Kingdom, Italy, Germany, the Czech Republic and other European jurisdictions, many gaming machines can be considered to be amusements with prizes (AWP), due to the relatively small amount that they pay out. In some jurisdictions these AWP machines fall outside of gambling legislation so are not regulated by a governing body. They can be found in amusement parlours, bars and restaurants, and other locations around the country. Where figures are available these machines have been included in the count as they fall under our definition of Gaming Machines.

Pachinko and Pachislot

Pachinko and Pachislot are gaming machines found in Japan.

Pachinko is similar to a vertical pinball game where the ball cascades down through various pins and into certain locations that can result in more balls being released. The more balls that are obtained the larger the value of the prize.

A Pachislot game is similar to a slot machine game however the player can also press buttons to stop the reels from spinning.

Gambling is illegal in Japan however both Pachinko and Pachislot are not considered gambling devices as the players can only win tokens or balls to be exchanged for merchandise. These machines have been included in the world count however as the winning tokens or balls are exchanged for merchandise at the parlour and then in turn for cash from the businesses that operate nearby.

Electronic Table Games

Electronic table games, as the name suggests, are electronic versions of tables games such as roulette, blackjack and poker. The electronic versions of these table games have allowed for the introduction of these games into venues that may have only been licensed for electronic games. Some jurisdictions consider each seat at an electronic table game to be the equivalent of a single device outlined above. Other jurisdictions do not count these electronic table games in their gaming machine counts.

Summary of findings

The estimate of the number of gaming machines that were installed legally worldwide in 2015 is 7,700,004.

Australia was estimated to have 197,105 machines installed, which gave it 2.56% of the world's legally installed machines (down from 2.59% in 2014).

Table A shows the top ten countries by total number of gaming machines. Japan, which had the highest number of machines, does not allow gambling. Machines in Japan do not pay money as prizes (see description of Pachinko and Pachislot on page 6), however it is known that prizes are exchanged for money indirectly hence the inclusion of these machine numbers in this report.

The total installed base by geographical region can be seen in the following chart.

Chart A: Summary by Geographical Region

The 2015 population has been sourced and compared to the number of gaming machines per country. The ratio of persons to the number of gaming machines per country has been based on the total population. No consideration has been given to the population of legal gaming age, only the population of the country or state as a whole. The top ten countries based on number of persons per machine can be seen in Table E and the top ten jurisdictions in Table F.

A number of cruise lines provide casinos and/or gaming aboard their vessels. The ratio of gaming machines to maximum passengers is relatively high. A summary of the top ten by Passengers to EGMs (based on the vessel at maximum capacity), can be seen in Table G, and a full break down per vessel can be seen in Appendix C.

+ Electronic gaming machines

 ferries and cruises also run slot machines however these have not been included in the land based figure (there are estimated to be 1700 VLTs on ferries)

Ireland: Unlicensed machines had been included in 2014/2013 figures.

Austria: following changes to licensing in 2014 it is expected that Austrian figures have fallen below 12000 however at the time of publication confirmed figures were not available.
